REPORT TO: File
SUBJECT Mills, Whites & Associates, Giles County, Virginia: Tax Roll Data, 1806–23 & (Partially) 1824–41; Including Selective Entries for Marcum, Preston & Toney

BACKGROUND: Frances “Frankey” Mills was alleged in November 1788 to be “a widow of this county” [Montgomery, later Giles] when John Abram Glymph of Doe Creek took out a bond to marry her. His bondsman was Milliton Atkins, a prominent member of nearby Walker Creek Baptist Church. The marriage did not occur. In August 1792, she wed “John White Sr.,” with Rev. Alexander Ross of Walker Creek officiating. Thomas Copley Jr. served as bondsman.

White family researchers, online and in print, have given various identifications for Frankey’s John White. My prior work documents the coexistence of three John Whites in Montgomery in the 1790s:<sup>1</sup>

- John White, who signed with his “S” mark, owned land on Little Sugar Run of Walker’s Creek, obtained from Patrick Napier of Amherst County. Obediah Byas of Amherst was also a neighbor. John used that “S” mark when he sold three parcels of his land in October and December 1793.<sup>2</sup> He again made the “S” mark, visibly shaky, when he posted bond to marry Susanna Marcum, daughter of John Marcum in July 1796, with Major Marcum as bondsman.<sup>3</sup> To distinguish him from the other John Whites, I am referencing him as John ‘S’ White.
- “John White Sr.,” as named on the 1792 bond he posted to marry Frankey Mills. With Frankey, he moved to Big Spring at East River Mountain, on land surveyed in 1797 jointly for “William Preston and John White.”<sup>4</sup> John and his apparent son

Benjamin White were long-time associates of John Toney of Toney’s Ferry at the junctures of East River and Wolf Creek with New River. John is last found on the 1821 tax roll of Giles, compiled in early 1821. He apparently died before 25 September 1821 when the previous “John White Jr.” was called “John White Seigner.”

- “John White Jr.,” as he is called in the following Montgomery and Giles sources:
  - Petitions: a November 1787 petition signed consecutively by “John White Senr., John White Junr., Beniman Whit”;<sup>5</sup> a c1800 petition signed consecutively by “John White, John White Jr., Benjn. White, James White, Arthur White”;<sup>6</sup> a 15 December 1801 petition signed consecutively by “John White Sen., Jas. White, James Copley ... John White Jr., Joel Brumfield, John Copley;”<sup>7</sup> and a December 1804 petition signed consecutively with Benjamin White (and Philip Miller who would soon sue him).<sup>8</sup>
  - Legal suits: 1811 suit of Philip Miller against “John White Sr., John White Jr., and Benjamin H. White.”<sup>9</sup>

John Jr. married Nancy Copley (sister of John Sr.’s bondsman) in June 1793. The 1810 census identifies him as “John White H.” Deeds of 1822, 1824, and 1826 and a court order of 1828 call him “John H White.”<sup>10</sup> His landholdings and wife’s identity provide the details to link the various versions of his name. An 1821 deed elevates him to “John White Seigner,” suggesting that the previous “John White Sr.” had died.<sup>11</sup> In 1847, he drafted his will in Giles County, naming his widow Nancy, and some but not all of his children.<sup>12</sup>

Frances “Franky” (Mills) White bore at least two children prior to her marriage to John White Sr.:

1. RACHEL MILLS, b. c1785–86.<sup>13</sup> On 7 September 1790, the Montgomery County Court ordered that “a daughter of Franky Mills” be bound out by John Preston, one of the overseers of the poor.<sup>14</sup> On 3 August 1803, “Rachel Mills” appeared before the county clerk to choose John Preston’s brother William (the same elite “gentleman” who co-owned 95 acres with Frankey’s husband John White) as her guardian,<sup>15</sup> a legality required because John Bowen was requesting a license to marry Rachel and she was still a minor. After Preston was appointed her guardian, swearing that she was “the orphan of Francis Mills,” he gave his consent to the marriage and then served as surety for the marriage bond.<sup>16</sup> Before 1810 Rachel and John moved to Warren County, OH.<sup>17</sup>

2. SAMUEL MILLS, born c1788,<sup>18</sup> took out a Giles Co. bond on 29 April 1807 to marry Rachel Prince, daughter of John and Rachel Prince. That file includes the 23 April 1807 permission of his parents: “John & Franky White” who, “both and each of us,” gave permission for “our sun” to marry.<sup>19</sup> Prior researchers report no evidence identifying Samuel’s father.<sup>20</sup>

Also central to this study is a second unattached Mills female who surfaced in the same Montgomery County community as Frankey, whose marriage was officiated by the same minister:

Sarah “Sallie” Mills, on 7 April 1791, married Elijah Sartain (var. Certain, Sartin) of Stoney Creek. Elijah, whose land was a mile or so from that of Frankey’s first suitor John Abram Glymph, took out a marriage bond to marry Sarah, with Joel “Certain” as his surety. The marriage return, citing 26 April 1791 as the date of marriage, was filed by the same Rev. Alexander Ross of Walker Creek Baptist Church who would wed the widow Frankey Mills to John White Sr. in 1792. In 1806, Sarah and Elijah were cut away into Giles, as were John mothers typically were taken from their mother at about three or four years of age; (b) the fact that Rachel was still under age in August 1803 when she had to have a guardian to consent to the marriage; and (c) the c1788 birth year of her brother Samuel Mills.

<sup>16</sup> Montgomery County Marriage Bonds, 1796–1803, unnumbered, chronological order; Montgomery Co. microfilm 39, Library of Virginia, Richmond. By the legal terminology of that place and time, the term orphan did not mean that both parents were dead. It was typically applied when a child no longer had a male parent to support it. Rachel’s mother was still alive in 1807 when she and John White gave permission for Rachel’s minor brother Samuel Mills to marry; see Giles Co., VA, Marriage Bonds [and Permissions], 1806–1820, unindexed, unnumbered, rough chronological order; imaged Giles Co. microfilm 21, Library of Virginia, Richmond.

John’s profile includes images of two badly torn pages from the “John Bowen and Rachel Bowen Berryhill Family Bible” listing births of Rachel’s children by both marriages and the death of John Bowen.

<sup>18</sup> Samuel was under 21 at his marriage in 1807, was first taxed as an adult in 1809 Cabell Co., and cited his age as 67 in his bounty-land application on 8 November 1855. A copy of his 1855 affidavit appears in the War of 1812 pension application file of his widow; see Nancy Mills, service of Samuel Mills (Pvt., Johnston’s Co., Va. <sup>20</sup> A Y-DNA test by one descendant matches him to male-line descendants of Booker Mullins of Franklin County and the Atkins/Adkins males of Montgomery and Giles Counties. This descendant has not published his DNA; therefore, privacy requires that he not be identified. I am including this note as a clue for others to follow—and to encourage testing and verification by other Y-line descendants of Samuel Mills.

and Frankey (Mills) White. No interaction has been documented between the two couples, either in Montgomery or Giles, although they had associates in common. In 1815, Elijah and Sallie sold the Montgomery > Giles land that Elijah inherited from his father Joel and moved to Gallia County, Ohio.

This Sarah Mills bore one daughter prior to marriage, in the late 1780s: an Elizabeth “Betsy” Mills for whom Elijah Sartain acted as bondsman when she married Archibald Chapman of Giles in 1811. That couple also settled in Gallia.<sup>21</sup>

A subsequent daughter born to Sarah and Elijah points to Sarah’s birth family: When that daughter married in Gallia in 1816, the justice of the peace identified her as “Lucy Tilman Sartain” in the recorded marriage return. Most descendants believe—credibly, although direct evidence has not been found—that Lucy’s mother Sarah was the daughter of Jesse Mills of Amherst County whose solidly documented wife was Lucy Tilman. This Jesse Mills had a sister Sarah “Sallie” Mills who married c1748 Thomas Watts (my ancestors) and another sister Anne Mills who married c1756–58 Lewis Witt, cousin of Rev. Richard Whitt of Montgomery.<sup>22</sup>

TASK: Tax rolls of Montgomery and Giles are being combed in order to provide year-by-year identifications of all taxable Millses and Whites in Montgomery and Giles. This is an essential first step to determining the identities of Sarah, Frankey, John White, and the father(s) of Frankey’s children. Known associates of all John Whites, and those of Frankey, Samuel, and Sarah Mills are included in this data extraction, for the context that their data provides.

Mills, “Jesse Mills Sr. (c1740–aft1811) of Albemarle & Amherst Counties, Virginia; Spouse: Lucy Tilman,” a work-in-progress last updated 20 August 2019; archived at Historic Pathways under the “Research” tab.

<sup>22</sup> The Witt/Whitt family of Montgomery is relevant to this study because of the possibility that Frankey or Sarah was the mother of one William Mills (born c1783–88, parents unknown) who surfaced as an adult in 1806 Franklin County and is found subsequently in both Giles and Montgomery. In 1816–17, for example, he witnessed John Toney’s lease of lands to John Conner and Zachariah Crawford who later bought land amid the Whites and Samuel Mills. (Giles, Deeds B: 84–85, 166–67). Y-line descendants of this William carry a Witt/Whitt Y. Their closest Y-matches, at genetic distances of 1 and 2 on a 111-marker test, are descendants of Lewis Witt (whose father Benjamin of Albemarle was first cousin to Rev. Richard Whitt of Montgomery > Giles) and John Witt of Halifax Co. (another first cousin of Rev. Richard and Benjamin). This William Mills-Witt had two daughters: one named Millie Frances (Millie being the name of her maternal grandmother) and the other Sarah.

For all proved information on this William Mills, see Elizabeth Shown Mills, “William Mills (b. c1783–88; d. c1863); Spouse Drucilla Kemp: Research Notes,” a working file last updated 28 August 2018; archived at E. ## SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

Technical Note:

This paper's Research Notes section presents each year's tax data in its original context, with descriptive or analytical details as needed. These notes adhere to two standard conventions:

- When a name is followed by a descriptor in parentheses, such as "White, John (Bear Spr)" those parentheses and its detail appear on the original roll. These descriptors are used by the tax commissioner to distinguish between same-name men.
- When a name is followed by a descriptor in square editorial brackets, such as "White, James [East River]," the notation within the brackets is locational or identifying detail I have added, based on prior entries for that cluster of names and land records reported in my previously cited Giles report.

This set of tax rolls does not consistently provide the date each list was submitted—that date typically being the date the tax commissioner visited each neighborhood to collect the data.

The composition of tax rolls suggests geographic and family clusters. I have tested these implications against extensive prior work in land, probate, and court records, as well as legislative petitions for both Giles and Montgomery.

Four broad conclusions are warranted:

Conclusion 1:

During 1787–1786, two separate sets of "John and Benjamin White" were in the part of Montgomery County that became Giles.<sup>23</sup> Whether the two sets were related remains unproved. They may be separated as follows

- John White (herein called John 'S' White) appears on a Montgomery Co. petition on 6 November 1787 consecutively with "Benj" White" and the Farleys who owned land adjacent to his land on Little Sugar Run of Walker Creek. This John was a resident-landholder and taxpayer from 1789 through 1794, and was charged erroneously on the 1796–1805 rolls of Montgomery for all his land (130a instead of the 35a remaining after the 1793 sales), suggesting that he was not in the county to correct the error. That correction was made in 1806 on both the Montgomery and Giles Co. land-tax rolls; he was dropped from Giles' land roll in 1807 and was never taxed on Giles' personal-tax rolls. Because he signed documents with his 'S' mark (three deeds in 1793 and his marriage bond in 1796), I am using the 'S' mark to disambiguate him from other John Whites. After his 1796 marriage to Susannah Marcum he moved with her to the area that became Cabell. Tax roll data does not clearly

<sup>23</sup> This identification of two sets of Johns and Benjamins is a critical clarification of a published account of Giles that asserts: "John Toney came in 1780 .... In that same year, Benjamin White and John White came from Amherst County and settled on Sugar Run, the waters of Walker's Creek. John remained in that area his long life, and died in 1847 at 83 years of age. Benjamin moved to the area that became Logan County and died in 1848/9." (Charley L. Davis, Giles County, Virginia, Personal Property Tax List 1806 and Giles County Land TAX List 1805; Order Book Minutes and Selected Marriages [Oakton, VA: P.p., 1980], preface.) This account merges the John White of Sugar Run and his kinsman Benjamin (both of whom moved to the region that became Cabell then Logan), with the John Sr./John Jr./Benjamin White family (Toney associates) from which John Jr. lived in Giles until his death in 1847.

identify offspring.<sup>24</sup> Associations and migration patterns suggest he was likely the father of “Mary White, daughter of John” who married Robert Whitt in 1792, Montgomery County.<sup>25</sup>

- John White Sr. signed that same Montgomery Co. petition in 1787 with “John White Jr.,” “Beniman White,” and the Copleys who were John Jr.’s future inlaws. The three would be taxed intermittently in the county through the mid-1790s. In 1792, John Sr. married Frankey Mills (with Thomas Copley Jr., bondsman). In 1801, John Sr. and William Preston patented a tract of land at Big Spring on East River Mountain for which they had obtained a survey in 1797. That land would be taxed to John in 1807–8 but thereafter was charged to Preston, although John’s name remained coupled with him on the tax entry through 1819.

Conclusion 2

John White Sr. and his proposed offspring settled four geographic areas that are defined by tax rolls, deeds, and grants:

- Little Wolf Creek (North Giles, west of New River): Benjamin (H) White. Apparently the oldest of John Sr.’s sons, Benjamin married Ann Goodwin in Amherst County, 1787. After a cameo appearance with John Sr. and Jr. in the Copley Ford area in November 1787, he dropped from sight until 1790, when he reappeared on Amherst County tax rolls amid Ann’s family through the spring of 1792. Throughout the rest of the 1790s, he was intermittently taxed in Giles.<sup>26</sup> In 1804, he obtained land on Little Wolf Creek of Bluestone River, about 34 miles west of Pearisburg according to the 1813 land-tax roll; that tract that was cut away into Giles in 1806. In 1807, he adopted the middle initial “H”, which he would use almost consistently for the rest of his life. (The first document on which he used the “Benj<sup>n</sup> H White” signature was the marriage bond of Frankey’s son Samuel Mills.) In 1808, he sold his Wolf Creek land to John Toney, to settle Toney’s suit against him.<sup>27</sup> During the landless years that followed, the tax rolls cluster him intermittently with John White Sr. (his proposed father) on East River and with two landowning Whites in southeast Giles who appear to be his brothers: John White Jr. (aka Jack White, John Hunter White, John White H, John White hunter) and James (aka James White H).
- Bear Springs, Camping Hollow & Gap Mountain (South Giles, west of New River): John White Jr. (aka “John White H,” “John White hunter,” John H White,” “John Hunter White,” and “Jack White”) appears to be the second son of John Sr. He married Nancy Copley in January 1793. An apparent ginseng hunter, he was in and out of Montgomery County for the first decade of his marriage and is intermittently coupled with John Sr. and Benjamin on the tax rolls of those years. He first claimed land in the Salt Pond area (see below) in the mid-to-late 1790s—apparently with a brother Robert. That tract’s adjacent landowner was Randall Lucas whose land subsequently adjoined James White (aka James White H). Before 1809, John moved across New River to the Camping Hollow community of his Copley inlaws; then in 1816, he settled at Bear Spring–Gap Mountain, where he died in 1847.

<sup>27</sup> John Toney settled in Montgomery in the late 1780s, after Indian attacks on his ginseng camps on Cole River. The plantation, mills, ferry, store, and inn that he developed in Montgomery > Giles were bounded by East River, New River, and Wolf Creek. He and his son Jonathan would be a touchstone for Benjamin H. White and his offspring even into the 1830s. A rare pair of land leases Toney executed in 1816/17 were witnessed by a William Mills who appears in no other Montgomery County records and appears to be William Mills-Witt of Franklin. See Giles Co., VA, Deed Book B: 84–85.

Tax roll clusters, reinforced by marriage bonds and deeds, identify or suggest the identities of seven sons who remained around him at Bear Springs: William, John, Thomas, David, Acles, Horatio, and Rhasa. His will identifies three younger children: Robert, Sally, and Nancy.<sup>28</sup> My reading of Giles County tax rolls stopped before the point that his son Robert came onto the rolls.

- Doe Creek & Salt Pond (South Giles, east of New River): James White (aka James White H) who signed several petitions in a cluster with John White Sr., John White Jr., and Benjamin White, came onto the Montgomery > Giles rolls in 1799 in the Salt Pond–Doe Creek area where his land also adjoined Randall Lucas (a mid-1790s neighbor of Robert and John White Jr.). James remained there consistently into the 1840s. A late-life deed identifies his then-wife as Mary.<sup>29</sup> The 1817 tax roll added the initial H after James’s surname to distinguish him from a new, younger James (apparent son of Benjamin) who had just come onto the roll along East River. Tax roll clusters, reinforced by marriage bonds and deeds, identify or suggest the identity of seven children who remained around James on Doe Creek: Adam M., Jacob, Isaac C., Levi, Preston C., James H., and a daughter Susan, b. 1804, who married their neighbor Jeremiah Williams.
- Big Spring and Brush/Harmon’s/Five-Mile Creeks of East River (North Giles, west of New River): John White Sr., Benjamin White, and multiple sons. John Sr. occupied Big Spring on East River from about 1797 (the date of his survey) until 1818, when, he joined the settlement Benjamin had created on Christian’s Fork of Brush Creek. A deed of September 1819, executed by Christian Peters, cured land titles for thirty-four small-scale landholders on the waterways around East River Mountain, including “John White Senr.,” his stepson Samuel Mills, and three young Whites who appear to be offspring of Benjamin: William White (either son or son-in-law) James White, and John White Junr.”<sup>30</sup> After 1819, John Sr.’s name was dropped from the tax entry for the tract previously held in common with William Preston. The Giles tax rolls from 1806 through 1821 cluster him intermittently with landless males, his proposed offspring, who submitted their tax lists on the same day as he. Other offspring took up land along East River’s Harmon’s Branch and “Six and Twelve Mile Creek” (near the area of Mercer County that has come to be known as Mills Valley). The tax rolls of 1819–21 cluster the aged John with the Brush Creek Whites who are his apparent sons and grandsons.

Conclusion 3:

Five given names appear in multiple branches of this White family; each same-name man must be carefully disambiguated:

Benjamin White: Two taxpayers carried this name:

1. Benjamin of Sugar Run/Walker Creek, the apparent eldest son of John ‘S’ White of Sugar Run, signed the November 1787 petition with John and others of Sugar Run; was taxed with John as a male 16–21 in 1788; was apparently one of two unnamed tithables 16–21 in John’s 1789 tax household; was taxed in the Sugar Run community in 1791 in a John Sr./John Jr./ Benjamin cluster; then dropped from Montgomery’s records. He appears to be the Benjamin taxed on Cabell County’s first tax roll in 1809.
2. Benjamin (H), proposed son of John White Sr., married Ann Goodwin in Amherst, 1787; signed the November 1787 Montgomery County petition with “John Sr.” and “John Jr.” from the Copley neighborhood; was taxed on personal rolls of 1790–92 (Amherst), 1793–94 and 1797–1806

(Montgomery), 1807–1819 (Giles). In 1819, he sold his Giles County land and moved across the county line into Cabell.

James White: Two taxpayers carried this name:

1. James of Doe Creek and Salt Pond Mountain (southeast Giles), apparent son of John White Sr.; taxed on personal rolls 1799 to at least 1837; land rolls: 1810 to at least 1824. Called “James White H” on 1817 tax roll
2. James of Brush Creek (northwest Giles), apparent son of Benjamin (H) and grandson of John White Sr.; married Mickey McKinney in 1821; taxed on personal rolls: 1817, 1820–27; died late 1827 before taxation on his Brush Creek land.

John White: Six taxpayers carried this name:

1. John ‘S’, of Little Sugar Run; married 1796 Susannah Marcum as his apparent second wife; taxed on unidentified Montgomery roll of “1782” [1785?] adjacent to William Marcum; Montgomery personal rolls, 1787–1794, 1796; Montgomery land rolls: 1796–1806; Giles land rolls: 1806–7; apparently settled c1797, with son Benjamin in area that became Cabell County.
2. John Sr. of Big Spring and Brush Creek of East River; married 1792 Frankey Mills; named on personal tax rolls, 1793–1821, and land rolls: 1806–21.
3. John Jr. of Camping Hollow and Bear Spring (aka John White H, Hunter White, Jack White, etc.), proposed son of John Sr., married 1793 Nancy Copley; taxed on Montgomery personal rolls: 1793–94, 1798–1802, 1804–1806; taxed on Giles personal rolls: 1807 to at least 1837; taxed on Giles land rolls: 1810 to at least 1820.
4. John of Camping Hollow area (southeast Giles); apparent son of Hannah, taxed (with “Arter” White) on Montgomery personal rolls, 1799–1806.
5. John of Bear Spring, son of John Jr. and Nancy, taxed on Giles personal rolls in 1816, then 1818 and most years thereafter
6. John of Brush Creek, apparent son of Benjamin and Ann, taxed on Giles personal rolls in 1819, 1821, 1822, 1826.

Thomas White: two taxpayers carried this name:

1. Thomas of Brush Creek (northwest Giles), apparent son of John Sr. and Frankey; taxed on personal-tax rolls: 1822–1824, 1826, 1828–36.
2. Thomas of Bear Spring (southeast Giles), son of John Jr. and Nancy; taxed on personal-tax rolls: 1817–20, 1823–25, 1828, 1831–35.

William: two taxpayers carried this name:

1. William (William R. in 1829–30) of Brush Creek & Harmon’s Branch (northwest Giles), married to Editha White; taxed on personal roll: 1815–36; cut away into Mercer Co.
2. William of Bear Spring (southeast Giles), son of John Jr. and Nancy; taxed on Giles personal-tax rolls: 1818–20, 1823–24, 1833–36. (In 1828 he was a resident of Montgomery Co. when he bought land at Bear Spring from Adam Johnston.<sup>31</sup>)

4.

Not all Whites of Giles can be placed confidently into a parental household, particularly these:

- Sons of John White Sr. and Benjamin of Northwest Giles. The 1810 census shows that both men had numerous sons: eight are assigned to the household of John Sr. (all of age to be children of his second wife Frankey Mills), and four to Benjamin's household (who were roughly the same age span as John Sr.'s second family). Interactions between their sons occurred in all sorts of combinations, making it impossible to draw clean distinctions. The tax-roll notes and census notes in this report analyze those combinations and some kinships that they suggest. Reasonably conclusive decisions about relationships for this generation will not be possible until exhaustive research is done on each of them in the various counties in which they lived post-Giles.

- Hannah, Arthur, and John White of Southeast Giles. The landless Hannah makes one appearance on the personal tax roll of 1798, in the Camping Hollow to Walker Creek area. Some of her tax roll "neighbors" overlap those of John 'S' White. That 1798 roll assign to her two young males, unnamed, who had reached tithable age but were not yet adults. The next year, when she was dropped, two males appear on the roll in their own names: "Arter" (Arthur) and John White. That pair dropped off the Giles rolls in 1807 and were picked up in Cabell in 1808. Superficially, geographically, Arter and John might seem connected to John 'S' and his wife Susannah Marcum, whose offspring populated Cabell for generations. However, two factors suggest not:
  - Arthur ("Arter"), almost certainly, is part of the family of John White Sr. When John Sr.'s stepson Samuel Mills married in 1807, Arthur was his bondsman and also served as witness to the permission given by the parents of Samuel's bride.<sup>32</sup> Some pre-1807 tax rolls and petitions of Montgomery also couple him with John Sr. and Jr.
  - The name Hannah Mills is found twice more in deed records of Giles, although she was never taxed on land or personal property. In 1822, when John White Jr. was imprisoned for debt and forced to sell his property at public auction to clear those debts, he tried to secure a residence and future for his family by conveying two small tracts to "William White, my son, for natural love and affection" and "Hannah White." No relationship or reason was stated for Hannah, and he had no adult single daughter at the time.<sup>33</sup> The donation to William was allowed by the court. The donation to Hannah was not. John Jr.'s provision for Hannah suggests a family relationship. If the Hannah of 1798 and the Hannah of 1822 are the same, then she would appear to be the widow of a brother—or else a sister who had born two sons outside of marriage.

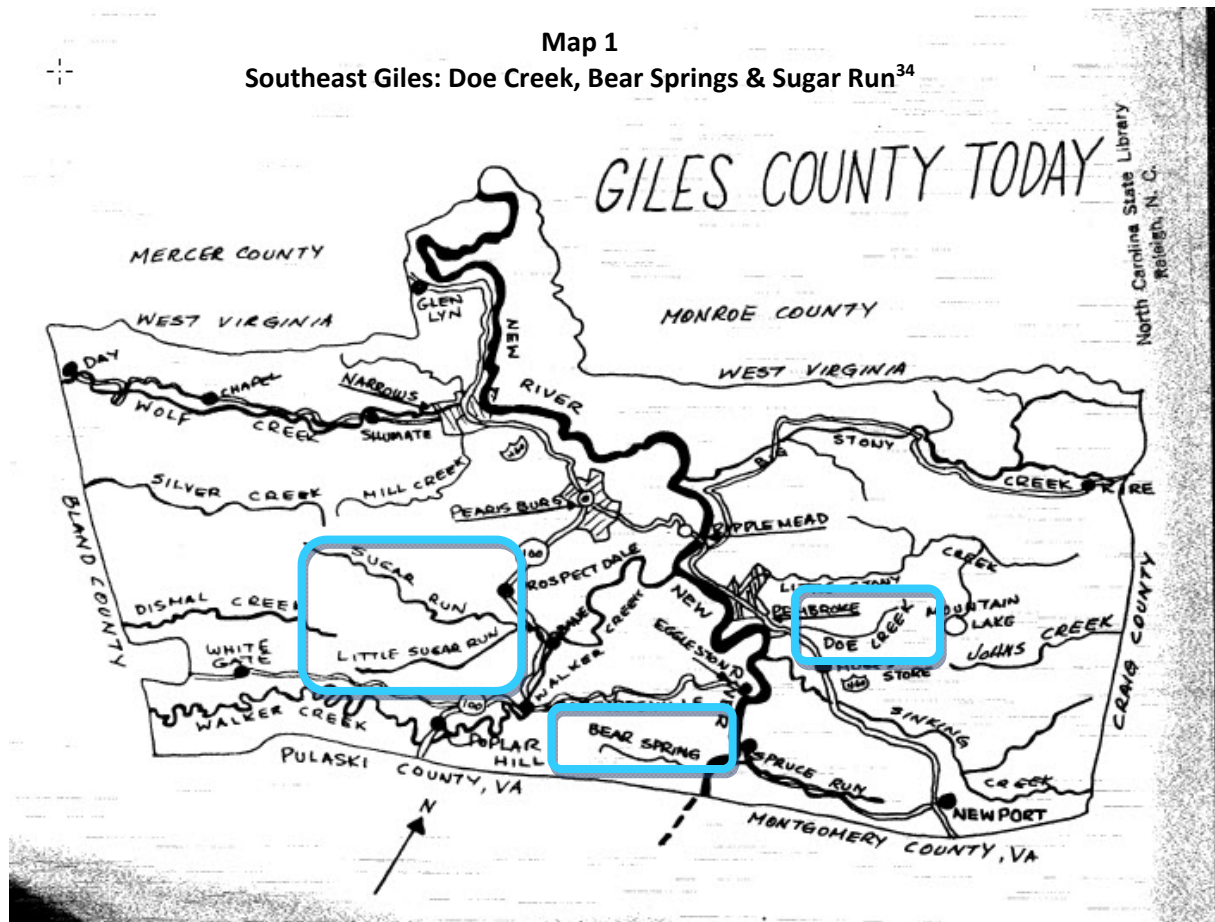

Again, final decisions about relationships for this generation will not be possible until exhaustive research is done on each of them in the various counties in which they lived after their residences in Montgomery > Giles.

In a future paper, "John White (c1740–1821); Spouses: 1. Unknown & 2. Frances "Frankey" Mills): Research Notes," I will begin the process of assembling family units from clues that speak to relationships.

COMMENT:

- Tax roll data from 1814 forward identifies each tract of land as being X miles in a particular direction. That description measures the land's distance from the courthouse at Pearisburg, a site marked with crosshatching in roughly the center of the map above.
- East River runs roughly along the line between present Giles and Mercer County, WV, which was cut from Giles in 1837.
- The central establishment (ferry, inn, mills, store, and plantation) of John Toney, a key associate of the Whites and an associate of William Mills-Witt of Franklin County, is shown above at the juncture of Wolf Creek and New River, extending up New River to Glen Lyn. He and his son Jonathan also owned land on Brush Creek (Map 2), adjoining the land of Benjamin H. White.

COMMENT:

The land tax rolls before 1812 do not cite the location of lands. With regard to the two White tracts above:

- 35 acres represents the amount of Sugar Run acreage remaining to John ‘S’ White after he sold three parcels of his land in 1793.<sup>35</sup> Despite those sales, the 1796–1805 rolls of Montgomery charged him for all 130 acres; apparently, he was not in the county to dispute the charges and I have seen no evidence that he paid those taxes. In 1806, when Giles was cut away from Montgomery, the rolls of both Montgomery and Giles corrected his land tax entry to charge him for just the 35 acres that he had remaining after the 1793 sales. These 35 acres are charged to “John White” in Giles only in 1806–7. After that, the entry is dropped.
- 95 acres represents the tract that was patented in 1801 to “William Preston and John White,” said to have been surveyed for them on 12 March 1797.<sup>36</sup>

COMMENT:

John Sr. added 2 tithes between 1805 and 1806. One of those, beyond reasonable doubt, was his stepson, Samuel Mills, born 1788. In early 1806, he would have been 17.

The third tithe in John Sr.’s household has not been identified. The following considerations need to be weighed here:

- No other White-surnamed male appears on pre-1807 Montgomery lists who might be his son.
- No other White-surnamed male appears on the 1807–11 Giles rolls who might be a son.
- His financial situation was not such that he could have hired an employee.
- William Mills of Franklin, hypothetical son of Frankey Mills, made his first appearance of record this year on the personal-tax roll of then-adjacent Franklin Co., turning in his list on 2 June.
- As a new add in Franklin Co., William’s name was not placed, as customary, at the end of the list. Rather it was inserted between Booker Mullins, formerly of Montgomery (whose Y-DNA is carried by male-line descendants of Frankey’s son Samuel Mills) and Samuel McCarrell, another man with Montgomery-Giles ties, whose list was also turned in on 2 June.
- McCarrell’s uncle John Ferguson Jr. of Franklin, in 1804, bought land on Brush Creek from Alexander Stuart, who also sold land that year to Benjamin White).<sup>37</sup> McCarrell’s aunt and uncle, William and Sarah (Ferguson) Weakes, were Montgomery Co. residents in 1801 when they sold Samuel a tract of Franklin County land that Sarah had inherited from her father John Ferguson Sr.<sup>38</sup>
- The third tithe in John Sr.’s household would be dropped from the 1807 list. Samuel, who did not marry until May, apparently was John Sr.’s second (and only other) tithe in 1807.
- No tax rolls exist in 1808.
- The 1809 tax roll shows no tithe for John Sr. other than himself.

Below, to help with neighborhood reconstruction, I am listing all taxpayers who turned in their lists on the same day as each of the Whites. However, a comparison of these lists with the Montgomery County lists for the same days shows date discrepancies between the two lists, particularly these:

- Many 5 April entries, on this Giles list do not appear for that date on the Montgomery list. Below, I am italicizing all the 5 April entries that carry that date on both lists. This is the core group that should constitute the community of James & Benjamin White in 1806.
- The date of Arthur’s submission and that of his neighbor William Wilburn differs from one to the other.
- “John White hunter,” the apparent brother of Arthur who submitted his list on the same day in Giles, is omitted from this Montgomery copy.

COMMENT:

This is the last year that John ‘S’ White’s 35 acres would be taxed in Giles. I have not found a sale of the land in Montgomery or Giles. One possibility is that he paid his tax from Cabell County. (Absentee landowners typically paid from the county in which they lived.) I have not yet thoroughly studied the Cabell County land tax rolls.

COMMENT:

- Note that John White [Sr.] is no longer responsible for the tax on the 95 acres at Big Spring. While his name was on the patent and would remain on the land-tax roll through 1819, the tax from this point forward was charged to William Preston and the tax entry appears each year in the “P” section of the roll.
- In September 1819, an en masse title clearance was made by one Christian Peters to 1700 acres “on East River Mountain, beginning at the Tazewell County line ... up the North side of the Mountain to the top, thence down the Mountain toward New River.” The two dozen or so men whose title was being cleared included “Samuel Mills, John Copley, Henry Bailey, Jonathan Bailey, George Bailey, John White Senr., William White, John White Junr., James White ...”<sup>39</sup> The acreage equates to a community of only about 2.5 square miles.

- John White Sr.’s purchase of part of the Peters tract appears to explain his removal from the Big Spring land formerly owned with Preston.
- Giles Co. deeds show that Benjamin White and wife Ann, in September 1808, sold 98 acres on Little Wolf Creek, “a branch of Bluestone” to John Toney and John McClaugherty.<sup>40</sup> Although they purchased the land in 1804, it was never taxed to them in Giles.

White, John [Sr.]	[Big Spring]	1 tithe, 0 slaves, 2 horses or mules, 24¢	8 Apr

COMMENT:

- The fact that Benjamin and John Sr. turned in their lists on the same day suggests that after the loss of Benjamin’s Little Wolf Creek land in the fall of 1808, to John Toney in settlement of a suit by Toney, he moved to John Sr.’s land or occupied unclaimed land near John Sr.
- The second tithe in the home of Benjamin would appear to be his son William—the first to go on the tax roll in his own name (1815) and to marry (1816).
- John Sr. of Big Spring has lost one tithe and one horse since the last roll (1807). This is the year that Samuel Mills appears on the roll of Cabell County.
- The new tithe in the household of John Sr. has not been identified. If a son, he should also be a son of Frankey. He appears to have died or left the county before he went onto the rolls in his own name.
- This is the first time that the “hunter” designation is attached to a John White on the Giles Co. tax roll. It previously appeared once in Montgomery County, 1806, for a John White (not Sr. or Jr.) who turned in his list on the same day as Arthur “Arter” White.
- The taxable property of this 1809 “hunter” syncs with that of John White “Jr.” in 1807 and 1810. In this year 1809, John “Jr.” does not appear under that appendage and both tax and deed records, taken together, clearly prove that John Jr. and John H. (“hunter”) were the same.

- On 27 February, John White and wife Nancy (the former Nancy Copley who married John [Jr.] in 1792, Montgomery Co.) sold these 75 acres to John Henderson.<sup>42</sup> That deed mentioned that the land lay “at the head of a hollow.” That should be Camping Hollow where Copleys lived.

White, Benjamin	[Big Spring]	2 tithes, 0 slaves, 4 horses or mules, 48¢	15 March
White, John [Sr.]	[Big Spring]	2 tithes, 0 slaves, 3 horses or mules, 36¢	15 March
Wilborn, Robert Wilborn, William
[skip 5]
White, John [Jr.]	[Camping H.]	1 tithe, 0 slaves, 1 horse or mule, 12¢	27 March
Waddle, Robert

COMMENT:

- The county has no taxable coaches, stages, or gigs. There are 1,666 horses and 708 enslaved people.
- The second tithe in the household of John White Sr. would appear to be his stepson Samuel, who is not taxed in his own name this year in either Cabell or Giles.
- The second tithe in the household of Benjamin would appear to be his William.
- In 1816 John White [Jr.] bought land from Robert Waddle/Waddel at Bear Spring and sold his Camping Hollow acreage.<sup>44</sup>
- Robert Waddle, in 1805 Montgomery County, submitted his list to the tax commissioner on the same day as John & Arter White. Given that the commissioner made the rounds of the county collecting lists, this suggests the 1805 John and Arthur were in the same community as the 1810 John Jr.

COMMENT:

- Benjamin White is missing.
- This is the first year that Samuel Mills is charged under his own name in Giles.
- The extra tithe charged to John Sr. this year would not be his stepson Samuel Mills, because Samuel turned in his list separately.
- John Sr.'s hypothetical stepson William Mills, still single, is missing this year from Franklin Co.'s tax roll.
- The Cabell rolls of this period show a Benjamin (not Benjamin H), James, and John.

Low Brown

240a, $120, $.59 “on North west side of Walkers Creek above the Big Crossing, joining Thomas Shannon’s Land.”

COMMENT:

Andrew Bowen’s 35-acre tract is the only 35-acre tract on the tax list, suggesting it might be the 35-acre tract held by John ‘S’ White after his three sales of 1793. However, when the land was last taxed to “John White” in 1807, it was valued at $34 and the tax was $.16. The property should not have decreased in value unless a home had burned.

Low Brown in 1833 produced an affidavit for the RW pension application of Robert Whitt, who married “Mary White, daughter of John” in 1792. According to Brown, he met Whitt during the war, while in service.<sup>45</sup> Low’s residence, adjacent to Shannon, suggests that the John White who was Whitt’s father-in-law was the John ‘S’ White who owned land adjacent to Thomas Shannon’s Walker Creek land.

The “McLaugherty & Toney” land on Little Wolf Creek, waters of Bluestone, is the tract they purchased from Benjamin H. White in late 1808. The alternate reference to Flat Top Mountain should help to identify the site of Benjamin’s former land.

- Also re Lucas: The 1790 court order allowing the Prestons of Sinking Creek to take Frankey Mills’s daughter also took a child of “Prude Lucas.” I have found nothing more on her.<sup>47</sup>
- Re Hunter: I have skimmed (but not recorded) all documents I’ve seen for this Robert Hunter while turning tax rolls and courthouse records page by page. Thus far, I’ve seen nothing to suggest a relationship to the Whites—i.e., the possibility that “Hunter” might be an alias of “John White hunter” aka “John Hunter White.” The word “Hunter” appears to be attached to John Jr.’s name as an occupation, rather than an alternate name.

COMMENT:

- William Carde__ appears in other notes within this report as William Carder.
- The 194-acre tract is the tract from which Toney leased 60 acres on 15 May 1816 [sic] to John Conner, with William Mills as witness. The lease identifies it as “part of the Same Survey that is Near Toney’s Mill.”<sup>48</sup>

Same 35a, $19, $.09 [no location]

Same 66, $40, $.19 “on the N side of a side creek Joining Lo Brown”

COMMENT:

The value of Bowen’s land per acre suggests it is not the same tract as the 35 acres remaining from the lands of John ‘S’ White. When the land was last taxed to John White in 1807, it was valued at $34 and was taxed $.16.

Thomas Hughes/Huse Napier is out of place in the H section of this tax roll. He is listed immediately after “David Huse” whose land lay on the S side of Paris Mountain, waters of Sugar Run.

Napier, through 1806 in Montgomery County, was not taxed on these 34 acres. I have not been following him here in Giles County. John ‘S’ White’s 35 acres adjoined Napier’s father Patrick.

- 1816, Benjamin H. White bought part of the Benjamin Stuart estate on Brush Creek.
- 1832, Ferguson’s heir (and apparent son), Standifer Ferguson sold land on Brush Creek between Christian’s Fork and Davis Fork.

COMMENT:

- Benjamin H., after his loss of land to Toney in 1808, appears to have bounced between the farms of John Sr. (his proposed father) in Upper Giles and John Jr. of Camping Hollow (his proposed brother).
- Benjamin H. has lost a tithe this year, when there is no new White tithable added to the roll in his own name. Without land for an older-teen son to farm, that son was likely to go out on his own and seek employment from someone who would then include him on their tithable list.

COMMENT:

- Note that John White Sr. is no longer taxed adjacent to Benjamin. Instead, he is clustered with a new entry on the Giles Co. tax rolls: William. However, John did not lose a tithe this year.
- No tithe has been dropped from any other White household in the East River area. However, Benjamin did lose a tithe in 1814 that is not otherwise identified.
- The new, third tithe in John Sr.'s household remains unidentified. The 1810 census attributes seven young males to his and Frankey's home. Married in 1792, they should now have sons reaching tithable age.
- James White of Doe Creek appears to be omitted.
- John White Jr. has also lost a tithe. In 1816, his son John would appear in a separate household.

COMMENT:

Re Preston’s land on Cole River: In the late 1780s, one “John White” and John Toney each purchased rights to land on Cole River, being two tracts of a larger survey made to one “John Smith.” John White’s grant was finalized in 1788,<sup>53</sup> John Toney’s in 1794.<sup>54</sup> I have not yet determined the fate of the John White grant or proved that the John White of Cole River was the John White of East River whose family members were close associates of John Toney. The Cole River landowner could be the John ‘S’ White who has left Little Sugar Run.

Maple Meadow Fork of Cole River ended up in Logan County (now WV) when that county was created in 1824. In 1825, a petition was filed by Benjamin and Thomas Smith to have the Logan County seat moved to Huff Creek’s fork at the Guyandotte River on acreage surveyed in 1795 for Gordon Cloyd of Montgomery. Amid the wranglings created by that petition, William Preston’s brother James P. Preston governor of Virginia, 1816–19), made an affidavit that tells us more about the Maple Meadow area:

“Having been solicited to make a statement on my own knowledge and impressions respecting the general character of the eastern end of Logan County, and particularly of the lands called the Marshes of Coal River, and the adjacent Country, I will do so, but will for reasons which must be apparent decline giving opinion, lest they should be exposed to the charge of being influenced or warped by interest. I will therefore confine myself to such facts as may be supposed to aid in the correct adjustment of a question which involves the interest and convenience of others who may feel themselves more deeply concerned than I do.

“The land called the Maple Meadows of Coal belong to me. Fifteen years ago I made a sale, at four dollars per acre. The contract was made void by mutual consent. I have laterly had frequent applications to sell those lands. I have had but a limited view of the Country, but as far as I have seen it, I know from the nature of the soil tho not very rich, it is well suited to the cultivation of grass & meadows and the raising of cattle and other stocks. It is known to produce small grain successfully. It is comparatively level and will admit of a tolerable dense population.

“By a reference to the Registers Office the fact I presume will appear that those lands, and that part of the Country were the first located and patented, by those who were judging from their own knowledge and view, and were choosing & selecting the best from the

COMMENT:

- Benjamin [Benjamin H.] has lost a tithe in this year 1816, when Cornelius is added to the rolls. John has not lost any tithes from the prior year. This reinforces other evidence suggesting that Cornelius was a son of Benjamin and Ann (Goodwin) White.
- No other new young man has been added to the roll this year who might be Benjamin's missing tithe. Note that in 1817 a new tithe (James) is coupled with Benjamin although Benjamin's household did not lose a tithe. It's possible that James went on his own as soon as he reached tithable age and thus was not charged to Benjamin that year.
- Robert Wilborn, the adjacent neighbor to John Sr., was a near neighbor of John Toney in 1818, as per the road order below:

2 JULY 1818

GILES COUNTY, VA

Court order

"On application of James McClaugherty, surveyor of the road from the ford of East river near Toney's Mill to the Limestone branch in Cavender's bottom. It is ordered that he have all the hands on that side of N River including from Jacharias Cooper including his farm up to Robert Wilberns platation [sic] Except one hand of John Toneys to keep the Same in Repair."

- "Anos Walker," cited immediately after John and Benjamin, was Chrystianos Walker. On 30 January 1816, "Chryspyanos Walker" filed his land entry for 100 acres on the South side of Richland Creek, beginning at William Walkers old house on Richland Creek, adjoining John Toney's back line.<sup>60</sup>

COMMENT:

- John White Sr. and Frankey appear to now have three sons of tithable age. None has been positively identified and the tax rolls of this period do not suggest their identity.
- Note the position of James who submitted his list of taxables on the same day as Benjamin. Neither Benjamin nor John has lost a tithe since 2015. However, Benjamin’s horse/mule count has dropped from 3 to 1. If James is Benjamin’s son, then he is just 16–18, given that this is the first time he is taxed.
- This James married Meeky McKinney in 1821 and died in late 1827, leaving property that was purchased at estate sale in early 1828 by Samuel Mills, Samuel’s son David Mills, and four Whites: Cornelius (son of Benjamin), and William (son or son-in-law of Benjamin) and Reubin and Thomas (apparent sons of John Sr.)
- This is the first year that there have been two Jameses on the tax roll. Note the addition of the “H” to the name of the older James of Doe Creek to distinguish him from the newly added James.

COMMENT:

- On 2 November 1816 and 26 July 1817, “Benjamin White” bought two tracts on Christians Fork of Brush Creek, east side, from the estate of Benjamin Stuart, Dec’d.<sup>61</sup> In September 1818, he and “John White,” apparently John Sr., petitioned the county court for an alteration of the road from “Five Mile Fork of East River to the poney Crossing on Brush Creek. Neighbors James and John McClaugherty and Robert Wilson were appointed to view the proposed alteration and submit an opinion to the court.<sup>62</sup> (While Benjamin almost certainly had a son John, that John was too young in 1818 to sign such a petition.)
- On 25 November 1817, Cornelius purchased 127 acres “on East River at mouth of Harmon’s Branch,” from Travis Stowers, adjacent to Richard Blankenship and Cornelius’s father-in-law William Garrison. See Map 2.

- "Jack" White would be John H White, coupled with John H's proved son William.

Re Robert Wiley:

- William Mills-Witt of Franklin County (and Giles 1816) gave the name “Robert Wiley” to a son born c1824.
- “Robert Wiley” references have been found in Giles (an 1822 lawsuit against Pleasant Webb of lower Giles, who sold land in 1825 to Jacob White, son of James),<sup>63</sup> Monroe (petitions 1800–29), Botetourt (1811 tax roll; 1821–28 tax roll; 1820 and 1830 censuses), Cabell (1829 petition), and Montgomery (1822 tax roll). COMMENT:

Four John Whites are now adult tithables:

- John Sr., now at Brush Creek, with apparent grandsons William and John “Jr.”]
- John “Jr.” of Brush Creek is named in the 1819 title-clearance deed by Christian Peters, “John White Senr.,” James White, William White, and Samuel Mills. Tax roll groupings and census data suggests this John of Brush Creek was a son of Benjamin H., brother of James of Brush Creek and Cornelius of Harmon’s Branch, and brother or brother-in-law to William of Brush Creek.<sup>65</sup>
- John H., aka “Jack,” formerly John Jr., at Bear Spring with grown sons
- John, son of John H.

Two Williams are now present in Giles:

- William in the Brush Creek neighborhood of John Sr., Benjamin H., and the new “John Jr.”
- William in the Bear Spring neighborhood of John H (aka “Jack”) and his sons Thomas and John is said to be John’s son in John’s deed of 25 April 1822 (Giles Co., VA, Deed Book B: 391).

COMMENT:

- Benjamin H. has dropped from the tithable list, after selling his Brush Creek property in 1819 with wife “Nancy.”<sup>67</sup> He appears this year on the 1820 census of Cabell Co.
- James of Brush Creek should be Benjamin H.’s son. He would marry Micky McKinney in June 1821. At his death in 1828, the administrators of his estate were William (the son or son-in-law of Benjamin) and Cornelius (proposed son of Benjamin).
- Cornelius has no taxpayer John coupled with him. However, the semi-alphabetized 1820 census places a John White household adjacent to Cornelius, suggesting relative proximity.
- Thomas White, who came onto the roll in his own name in 1822 when John Sr. was dropped, is said to be aged 66 on the 1 June 1870 census of Mercer. If accurate, that places his birth between 2 June 1803 and 1 June 1804. He would be 16 in this year (for which the minimum tithable age is not stated on the roll).

There seems to be a pattern in Giles whereby newly opened lands did not go onto the tax rolls until three or four years after they were titled. TO DO: Check the law on this point.

COMMENT:

Some of these tax rolls present the given name first, then surname. Some reverse the names. For consistency, this set of notes puts surname first. However, in the case of John (Hunter) White, the inversion does not clearly convey what is represented. H is rarely used for him as a middle name. Instead it is an appendage following his surname, as with the "B. C<sup>r</sup>," "D. C<sup>r</sup>," and "J son" used for other Whites.

Note that the above list explicitly places the old John on “B.C” where Benjamin H. had previously lived and where Benjamin H.’s apparent son James (John Sr.’s proposed grandson) acquired land. In fact, on this list John is flanked by four proposed grandchildren—i.e., three sons of Benjamin and a fourth, William, who (from known evidence) could be Benjamin’s son or son-in-law.<sup>68</sup> The nonlandowning offspring in this cluster were likely helping to farm his land, given his advanced age.

COMMENT:

On 25 September 1821 John White of Bear Spring (now calling himself “John White Seigneur” purchased two tracts from Edmund Morgan, 65 acres and 80 acres. When he could not pay the notes as they came due, Morgan sued, John was imprisoned for debt, and the land was sold by the sheriff at a discounted rate to clear part of the debt. In the course of that litigation John tried to protect two of his tracts by deeding the land to his “son William White” and to one Hannah White. The court accepted the sale to “son William” but required Hannah, along with John and wife Nancy, to execute a deed selling Hannah’s tract Hannah’s relationship is not stated. No husband authorized her action, suggesting that she was a widow or a sole feme.<sup>69</sup>

COMMENT:

- The John White of Brush Creek should be the son of Benjamin, brother to James who is coupled with him.
- John White Sr. has been dropped from the list.
- Two new, propertyless Whites are added this year: Major and Thomas.

- Thomas appears to be one of the two tithables charged to John Sr. in 1821. He would remain in Giles until Mercer County was cut away in 1837.<sup>70</sup>
- This Major White is not taxed in Giles after this point. His name and 1830 census data suggests that he belongs to the marriage of John ‘S’ White and Susannah Marcum, sister of Major Marcum who served as their bondsman. The 1830 census places him in Logan County, as a male 20–29, with an apparent wife and four children.<sup>71</sup> The only candidate for him in 1850 seems to be the 53-year-old Major White, born Virginia, enumerated on the 1850 census of Shelby County, Indiana, at the end of the the household of John Perdew (41, b. Ky.), wife Nancy (40, b. Ky.), and children Ruth Ann, John H., Benjamin, Tharila E., George, and William A.<sup>72</sup> The Purdew association echoes the Perdue associations and intermarriages of this Mills-White family in Giles and Mercer Co.
- “James White (same)” [referring to an entry before him for a taxpayer on the Guyandotte], should be the man who, on 25 April 1810 in Cabell County, bought 300 acres on Guyandotte River from Henry Farler and wife Sally.<sup>73</sup> The 1809 and 1810 tax rolls of Cabell show three Whites in the county: John, James, and Benjn., listed consecutively. In 1811, that James witnessed a deed in Cabell for land on Guyandotte being purchased by James “Beis” [Bias?] and Ezekiel Smith; other witnesses were Henry Farley and Peter Dingess of Giles.

Regarding this James White of Cabell:

- 1812: He and “Benjamin” are on the Cabell tax list, John is not.
- 1813: Benjamin is the only White taxed in Cabell. Meanwhile “Benjamin H” is taxed in Giles. This Benjamin of Cabell 1809–13 is a different man.
- 1820: James White of Cabell sold to William White of Cabell a tract of Cabell land for 1 cent, with Wm. Toney as witness.
- 1823: Henry Farley Jr. sold “Benjamin White” 50 acres on Big Pigeon Creek of Sandy, using Justice Peter Dingess.

The Farley (aka Farler) family in the 1790s owned land on Sugar Run of Walker Creek—a neighbor of John ‘S’ White. Peter Dingess Sr. (d. 1809) and his son Charles were East River neighbors and associates of John Toney and Benjamin H. White. In fact, Charles appears to have fathered a daughter by Benjamin H.’s daughter Elizabeth.<sup>74</sup>

COMMENT:

- The roll no longer carries a John in the Brush Creek area.
- John H has no property to tax as a result of his imprisonment for debt and the seizure of his property in 1822.
- James's land appears to have been bounded by Brush Creek on one side and Five Mile Fork on the other. The 1827 tax roll clearly states that James was on "B.C." (the clerk's abbreviation for Brush Creek). James then died before the next tax roll. In 1830, the land speculator James T. Watson of New York City made a land title out to James’ three minor children saying the land lay on “Five Mile fork of East River adjoining the land on which the said James White deceased did live.” See Giles Co. Deed Book C:689–91. Brush Creek and Five-Mile appear to come together near James’ land.

- This Thomas of Brush Creek should be a son of John Sr. and Frankey.

COMMENT:

Re the Harmons/Brush Creek/East River cluster:

<sup>77</sup> There is ambiguity in the records as to where James of East River lived at this time. This 1827 tax roll clearly states that James was on “B.C.” (the clerk’s abbreviation for Brush Creek). James then died before the next tax roll. In 1830, the land speculator James T. Watson of New York City made a land title out to James’ three minor children saying the land lay on “Five Mile fork of East River adjoining the land on which the said James White deceased did live.” See Giles Co. Deed Book C:689–91. Brush Creek and Five-Mile appear to come together near James’ land.

- Reuben appears to have been the third tithable in the John White household of 1821. When James of Brush Creek died in 1828, William and Cornelius were appointed administrators of his estate. Thomas and Reuben both bought property from the estate sale, as did Samuel Mills.<sup>78</sup>
- In this year 1827, the above Thomas White—along with an Isaac White and Wesley White who are not taxed this year, are named in an en masse title clearance given by James Hector to 39 small-scale landowners “in Giles, Tazewell, and Monroe Counties,” who had purchased 1973.5 acres from him “on the north side of Bluestone River.” Other purchasers included David Mills (son of Samuel), Blankenships, Workmans, Meadows, Purdues, and Princes (all connected to offspring of John White Sr. and Frankey), as well as John Conner and Zachariah Crawford (the two men whose 1816 or 1817 land leases from John Toney were witnessed by William Mills of Franklin County).<sup>79</sup> Neither Isaac nor Wesley appear on the personal tax rolls of Giles—not this year or later.
- The 1850 and 1860 censuses of Logan County place Wesley White’s birth about 1802 (citing him as “Benjamin W.” in 1850 and “Wesley” in 1860; with same family members). The (undocumented) online trees of descendants identify him as a son of Benjamin and Ann—and the naming patterns for his children suggests that he belongs to them; however, the 1810 Benjamin White census household does not have enough males 0–10 to accommodate Wesley, James, and John, unless a recording error occurred.
- Census data ambiguously supports an assignment of Wesley to Benjamin and Ann.
- Isaac White of the East River region has not been found in any subsequent record of Giles. He should not be confused with Isaac, son of James of Doe Creek.

COMMENT:

- The extra tithe in the household of James White of Doe Creek appears to be his son Isaac White who, on 18 April 1829, m. Catherine Williams, daughter of Joseph Williams. His parents are not named.<sup>80</sup> [Joseph Williams was uncle of the spouses of Adam & Susan White]
- Isaac White, the landowner "north of Bluestone," is not included by name on this 1829 roll, although he appears to have turned 21 by 18 April.
- Joseph Williams has repeatedly been listed consecutively or very close to James White of Doe Creek.
- When Isaac came onto the roll in his own name in 1832, he is listed immediately after James of Doe Creek.
- Note that William of Brush Creek has added a middle initial "R".

COMMENT:

- Cornelius White is dropped this year. In November 1827 he had bought land across the county line in Tazewell at "Mouth of Six or Twelve Mile Creek." In 1829 he sold his Harmons Branch of East River land and moved onto the Tazewell land, where he is enumerated on the 1830

census.<sup>81</sup> In 1834 the Tazewell court nominated him as an appropriate person for county justice.<sup>82</sup>

- This Isaac of Doe Creek should not be confused with the Isaac who was one of 39 landholders between Bluestone and East River whose land titles were cleared in 1829.

TO DO:

Tazewell County’s original records need to be thoroughly mined.

Mills, Joseph W. 2 whites, 1 slave 12–16, 4 horses, .90

15 April

COMMENT:

- No other Mills is not taxed in the county. The Perdues remain.
- I read White data but did not have time to capture it.
